'Reading age' in this catalogue refers to the reading level of the text. 'Interest age' refers to the appeal of the content of the books and gives consideration to both unenthusiastic and able readers.

We see books as an invaluable learning and development aid, especially in the first few years of life, so our books are not only entertaining and stimulating, but also highly engaging and interactive. Our books meet European Safety Standards (CE mark) and all our board books are sturdy and have rounded edges.

The virgin paper fibre used in the production of our books, catalogues and office supplies is sourced from sustainable forests. Sustainable forests are ecologically managed to ensure a healthy balance between the demands for paper today and the forests' natural ecosystem, and to ensure that the needs of our readers and their children and grandchildren can continue to be met in the future.

SALARIYA
BOOK HOUSE SCRIBBLERS SCRIBO
Where books come to life Brilliant books for brilliant children The power of the story

The Salariya Book Company celebrated its 30th birthday in March 2019. Despite the festivities, it's business as usual: we've got a fantastic range of 2019 titles from our Scribblers, Book House and Scribo imprints lined up for publication throughout the year.

Scribblers highlights include some fantastic picture books: The Lost Star, the heartwarming story of a dormouse and her woodland friends helping a fallen star to get back to its home in the night sky; Boom! Boom! Boom!, the rhyming story of a gorilla and his chums dancing through the jungle and city as other animals and people join in with the rhythm; and Oh No! Look What The Cat Dragged In, the humorous story of a messy and mischievous cat who drives his owners crazy by bringing in all of the animals he has caught.

For Book House, we're launching a new information book series called Women in Science – illustrated, engaging 32-page guides to the lives and groundbreaking achievements of female scientists, with titles on Ada Lovelace and Jane Goodall, featuring bite-sized text, maps, timelines and photographs. For history fans, Tough Times: A Kid in Ancient Egypt and A Kid in Ancient Rome offer quirkily-illustrated explorations of these ancient civilisations from the perspectives of children living in them.

Another new series is Kids in History, illustrated biographies of the eventful childhoods of famous figures from history; the first two titles tell the stories of Mary, Queen of Scots and Mozart, divided into short chapters alongside fact boxes providing further historical context and stunning black and white illustrations.

We also have plenty of art books for readers aged 8 to 80, including Draw Kawaii: Cute Animals and Cute People, offering detailed but easy-to-follow instructions on how to draw in the popular Japanese art style, and four titles in the innovative Learning To Draw, Drawing To Learn series, which combines history and art, allowing readers to discover the cultural practices of the ancient Greeks, ancient Romans, ancient Egyptians and Vikings as they take on dozens of fun drawing projects. And if you're looking for the perfect present for a cat lover, don't forget our Secret Lives of Cats gift book, which offers an amusing illustrated guide to the different catnap positions favoured by our feline friends.

Scribo will see the release of several new titles in the popular and acclaimed The Long-Lost Secret Diary of the World's Worst... series, recently included in the 2019 Summer Reading Challenge. Tomb Hunter was published in January 2019, and Shakespearean Actor and Movie Director will follow in June and September respectively.

To celebrate thirty years and the ongoing success of our You Wouldn't Want To Be series, which has sold more than 6 million copies in countries around the world, we're also launching a brand new website dedicated to the series. You can find out more on page 33.

With hundreds of titles available, The Salariya Book Company shows no signs of slowing down as it enters its fourth decade. Here's to thirty more years!

The Lost Star NEW

One magical night, a dormouse befriends a star that drifts down to Earth. But when the star can't get back to its home in the sky, the dormouse enlists the help of the other woodland animals to return the star to where it belongs. But will the creatures succeed? This is a charming and heartwarming picture book with a gripping story and breathtaking illustrations that child and parent will want to read again and again, developing early literacy skills.

Oh No! Look what the cat's dragged in NEW

Grandma's acting worried, and looking very grim. She never knows each morning, just what the cat's dragged in!

In this hilarious, lighthearted new picture book by the 2017 Notable Book award-winning author Joy H. Davidson, a week at Grandma's house descends into chaos as the cat brings a range of increasingly icky creatures inside every night that have to play dead to avoid being eaten by the hungry feline.

Tooth Monsters NEW

The young girl at the centre of this charming and quirkily-illustrated story hates brushing her teeth and is terrified of the dentist; as far as she's concerned, there's no scarier monster. But when she meets a real monster in her bathroom, she learns how dentists are really heroes and brushing your teeth is very important - so important that even monsters do it!

Boom! Boom! Boom! NEW

This is the rhyming story of two gorillas and their human chum dancing through the jungle and into a city as they're joined by other dancing animals and people who can't help but feel the rhythm of their song. The vibrant and lively illustrations are inspired by African art and the rhythmic text with its musical refrains and repetitions is ideal for young readers to use to practise their early literacy skills.

A tiny kitten wants to be part of the street cat gang, but is shunned and ignored by the other, bigger felines. However, when the gang becomes trapped, it is suddenly up to the kitten to save them and prove that he deserves to join the gang. This is a heartwarming and humorous story about how each of us has something important to contribute, no matter our size! The large format makes it ideal for parent and child to read and laugh along with together.

When a pigeon visits the aviary, it feels very inferior to all of the other species of birds he encounters, with their colourful plumage and magnificent wingspans. But eventually the pigeon realises that it has something the other birds don't – freedom!

The Remarkable Pigeon is a thought-provoking and stunningly-illustrated picture book that will enchant children and teach them the importance of not always comparing oneself to others and appreciating what one has.

SCIENCE AND NATURE

EUREKA MOMENT

This narrative non-fiction series tells the stories of great moments in science as if through the eyes of the scientists and inventors themselves. The stories are told like an adventure, with all the dramas, missteps, and struggles along the way, ultimately leading to the 'Eureka' moment of triumph. The books use all the tropes of fiction – dialogue, action, suspense – to tell true-life tales of human discovery and achievement.

'The whole series supports the curriculums of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland, but even if you don't follow a curriculum at all there is guaranteed to be something in the range that will inform and delight your children... As well as being excellent, informative books, these would be invaluable to anyone who has a reluctant reader because the kids were desperate to know what the funny pictures were about.'

Maz, acornstem.co.uk

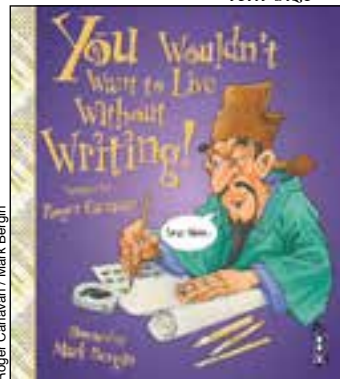

A brain-bogglingly brilliant series!

'I read these to my Kindergarten-age son, and he is so fascinated by them and asks lots of questions, which sparks interesting discussions.'
