The Salariya Book Company has won many awards, including the IPG Award for Children's Publisher of the Year and the Times Educational Supplement Senior Information Book award. We have also had our titles shortlisted in the Summer Reading Challenge, Junior Design Awards and the British Book Design Awards, and longlisted for the English Association 4–11 Picture Book Awards.

'Reading age' in this catalogue refers to the reading level of the text. 'Interest age' refers to the appeal of the content of the books and gives consideration to both unenthusiastic and able readers.

We see books as an invaluable learning and development aid, especially in the first few years of life, so our books are not only entertaining and stimulating, but also highly engaging and interactive. Our books meet European Safety Standards (CE mark) and all our board books are sturdy and have rounded edges.

The virgin paper fibre used in the production of our books, catalogues and office supplies is sourced from sustainable forests. Sustainable forests are ecologically managed to ensure a healthy balance between the demands for paper today and the forests' natural ecosystem, and to ensure that the needs of our readers and their children and grandchildren can continue to be met in the future.

SCRIBO
The power of the story

Welcome to the new catalogue for The Salariya Book Company imprints: Scribblers, Book House and Scribo. Our new books for 2020 are set to be our most wide ranging and innovative in thirty-one years of publishing.

Scribblers highlights include the launch of the Scribble Monsters series of activity books, themed around copying, colouring, tracing, painting, sticking and printing. Pre-school children can learn from the Scribble Monster characters: Inky, Blot, H.B., Pablo, Nibs and their pet Smudge – to complete a range of drawing-inspired activities that will aid in the development of a range of vital skills from manual dexterity and hand-eye coordination to foundational writing skills. We also have the new Creature Features board books that use touch and trace (ideal for developing early writing skills) and lift-the-flap elements to bring the animal world to life.

There are a range of excellent new picture book titles also, such as Look, Daddy, Look! – the winner of the 2020 Stratford-Salariya Children's Picture Book Prize – by debut author-illustrator Manlu Tu, which tells the story of a daddy hedgehog searching for his lost daughter. Billy and the Balloons by the award-winning author-illustrator pairing of Elizabeth Dale and Patrick Corrigan, is about a boy lifted into the sky by a large bunch of balloons who ends up helping Santa to deliver his presents on Christmas Eve. There's also a brand-new Christmas adventure starring Old Bear and friends from BAFTA award-winning author-illustrator, Jane Hissey: Little Bear and the Silver Star. The much-anticipated latest entry in the beloved Old Bear series, it is sure to become a future classic.

In Book House, alongside You Wouldn't Want To Sail on the Mary Rose! in partnership with the Mary Rose Trust, we are launching the Live from the Crypt series of non-fiction history books with a ghoulish twist. Each volume features the cast and crew of an undead talk show interviewing the ghosts of famous historical figures like Tutankhamun and King Henry VIII about their lives, with comic strips dramatising episodes from their stories. For those of a more scientific persuasion, the Books with X-Ray Vision series features frightening creatures such as dinosaurs and sharks, with pictures of the animals that can be held up to the light to reveal their skeletons. There are also new A Very Peculiar History titles on topical issues like the Olympic Games and climate change for readers aged 8 to 80.

There are plenty of guides for the artistically-inclined, including two new Draw Kawaii titles about drawing cute food and cute magical creatures, and two titles in the Draw 1001 series, featuring 1,001 images each of animal species and aircraft and bite-sized advice on technique that can be used as inspiration.

For Scribo we're adding more titles to the best-selling Long-Lost Secret Diary of the World's Worst… series – Hollywood Director and Samurai – both foregrounding strong female characters, as well as Classic Comix, eight fast-paced graphic novel retellings of literary classics, including Frankenstein.

You can also check out children's entertainer and educator Mr Dilly performing a stage show based on You Wouldn't Want To Be An Egyptian Mummy! from the global bestselling You Wouldn't Want To… series at four literary festivals across the UK.

With more than 500 titles to choose from in the Salariya imprints, we have books for all ages and interests that will appeal to both avid and reluctant readers.

I hope you will enjoy our books as much as we have enjoyed working on them.

WANTED: WITCH'S CAT

NEW

'Could you ride on my broom across the Moon, and stir my cauldron with a wooden spoon? Could you live in a house with toads and lizards, and feast each day on animal gizzards? Could you remember my spells from beginning to end? But, most of all, will you be my friend?'

In this hilarious, lighthearted new picture book by the 2017 Notable Book award-winning author Joy H. Davidson, a witch organises a series of job interviews with different types of cat to see who can be her companion.

EDMUND, THE ELEPHANT WHO FORGOT

NEW

'Elephants always remember. Elephants don't get it wrong. Elephants always remember. As long as they sing this song!' Edmund is a very forgetful elephant. When he's sent to the shops to fetch some things he soon finds that he can't remember what he was meant to buy, and soon his purchases are getting sillier and sillier. Instead of a frying pan, he collects a snoring gran! Instead of a prickly pear, he gets some spotty underwear! Children will laugh along with this delightful and very funny story from debut author, Kate Dalgleish.

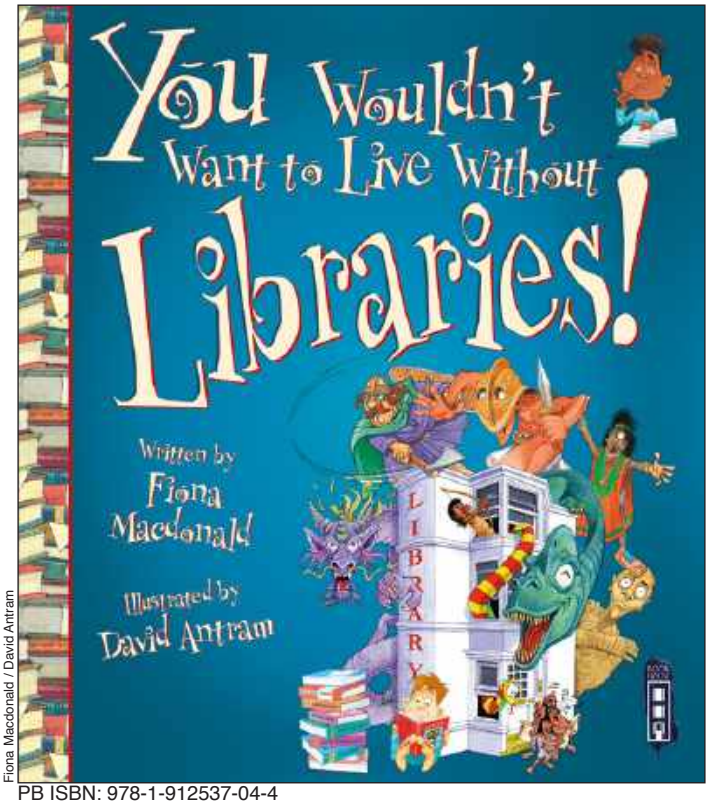
YOU WOULDN'T WANT TO LIVE WITHOUT…



Fiona Macdonald / David Antram
PB ISBN: 978-1-912537-04-4

What would your life be like if you had to do without all the modern inventions and natural phenomena you take for granted? How would you cope without a toilet? Could you get by without electricity? Starting from these tricky questions, each title in this new series takes us on a historical journey. We learn how people really did cope in the past, and how they developed ingenious ways to make life safer.

'I read these to my Kindergarten-age son, and he is so fascinated by them and asks lots of questions, which sparks interesting discussions.'
Leslie Fisher, Goodreads [Electricity]

'The whole series supports the curriculums of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland, but even if you don't follow a curriculum at all there is guaranteed to be something in the range that will inform and delight your children… As well as being excellent, informative books, these would be invaluable to anyone who has a reluctant reader because the kids were desperate to know what the funny pictures were about.'

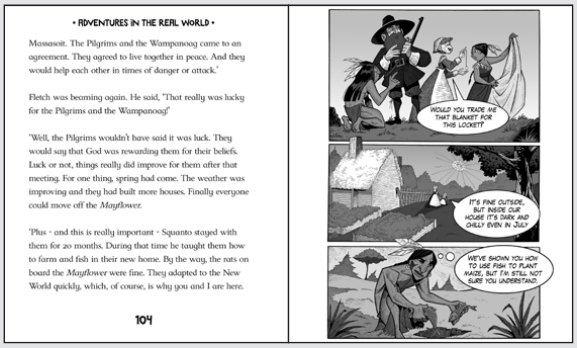
HISTORY

ADVENTURES IN THE REAL WORLD

NEW

The titles in the Adventures in the Real World series provide in-depth, fast-paced accounts of famous, world-changing voyages and expeditions throughout history, using a mix of easy-to-read text, fact boxes providing historical context, comic strips dramatising significant episodes in the journey and maps of the routes taken to appeal to reluctant readers.

Voyage of the Mayflower retells the historical voyage of the eponymous ship and the pilgrims aboard it from Europe to Plymouth Rock in North America.



• ADVENTURES IN THE REAL WORLD •

Massasoit. The Pilgrims and the Wampanoag came to an agreement. They agreed to live together in peace. And they would help each other in times of danger or attack.'

Fletch was beaming again. He said, 'That really was lucky for the Pilgrims and the Wampanoag!'

'Well, the Pilgrims wouldn't have said it was luck. They would say that God was rewarding them for their beliefs. Luck or not, things really did improve for them after that meeting. For one thing, spring had come. The weather was improving and they had built more houses. Finally everyone could move off the Mayflower.

'Plus - and this is really important - Squanto stayed with them for 20 months. During that time he taught them how to farm and fish in their new home. By the way, the rats on board the Mayflower were fine. They adapted to the New World quickly, which, of course, is why you and I are here.

SCIENCE AND NATURE

EUREKA MOMENT

This narrative non-fiction series tells the stories of great moments in science as if through the eyes of the scientists and inventors themselves. The stories are told like an adventure, with all the dramas, missteps, and struggles along the way, ultimately leading to the 'Eureka' moment of triumph. The books use all the tropes of fiction – dialogue, action, suspense – to tell true-life tales of human discovery and achievement.

THROUGH THE WALL NEW

This powerful graphic novel tells the story of a giant wall separating two civilisations: one of blue people and one of yellow. Each side is forbidden to speak to the other, because they are sworn enemies. One day, a boy and a girl from opposite sides of the wall meet and decide to break down the boundaries that divide their peoples forever. The debut graphic novel from Jonathan Standing, this is a stunningly-illustrated story with an important message about overcoming prejudice and fear of the other.

The thrillingly-told and stunningly-illustrated historical adventure narratives in the Timeslip series tell the stories of young volunteers, in a future where much of the past has been erased, transported through time via a machine and into the bodies of figures in the past. The atmospheric and detail-rich accounts will enthral and educate young readers.

Scarlet is an ordinary girl who goes on an extraordinary adventure when she is given a hoodie by her grandmother that allows her to travel back in time to the age of the Vikings. Tasked with defeating a terrifying dragon, Scarlet learns lessons about self-esteem and courage that allow her to deal with the problem of bullying in her normal, everyday life. This is an exciting and heartwarming graphic novel told with simple, accessible language and charming, highly-detailed illustrations that is sure to get children hooked on reading.

THE SHAKESPEARE PLOT

'There is plenty of tension, chasing, hiding and sword fighting as well as an insight into life in the theatre. With more books to come, this is an exciting series to immerse yourself in.'
Juno Magazine

To read or not to read? With a pulse-pounding historical thriller trilogy like The Shakespeare Plot there's really only one answer! Read it! Journey back in time to Elizabethan London, a world of intrigue, skullduggery and danger.
