About the Illustrator

As a child, Raffaella Castagna's favourite things were reading, drawing and playing. She went on to graduate from Brera Academy of Fine Arts in Milan, Italy, and her drawings, games and ideas about how to make things from the most unlikely and apparently worthless materials have found their way into books and magazines. To her name she now has more than 20 titles with leading Italian publishers and holds reading workshops with children to turn words and colours into games.

AT THE NURSERY

This series of board books was designed specially in black and white for toddlers, based on the theory of Maria Montessori. The world-famous Italian educator noted how babies first distinguish, and enjoy, high contrast images like these, providing visual stimulation for newborns and just right for baby's developing brain. This series contains more than 64 different exercises for the visual sensitive period and the slide-and-pull tabs provide yet another way to interact with the book. A visually appealing and unique collection!
