Tales of the EMOTOSPHERE

Tales of the Emotosphere is a graphic novel, encouraging kids to understand & make space for all their feelings. Readers will encounter the 7 Cosmic Powers, introducing them to psychology strategies that will help them thrive in childhood through to adulthood.

The Emotosphere is a special place on the edge of our galaxy, where there's space for all emotions. Join the Emotoneers & their faithful friend Puck the Space Mutt, as they learn the skills they need to navigate the Emotosphere, find the treasure that is all around them & live their dreams!

This is the book about emotional wellbeing that kids will WANT to read. It's a fun adventure story, full of humour, which they'll enjoy reading & talking about.

Featuring the 7 Cosmic Powers – a range of evidence-based strategies to help kids make space for all their feelings, including mindfulness & gratitude.

Written and illustrated by children's author, illustrator and former PlayStation games artist, Russ Daff in collaboration with clinical psychologist, Dr Susannah Redhead.
