

Dragon Girl and the Awakened Flames

Author:	Jenny Moore
Illustrations:	David Dean
Series:	Dragon Girl
Size:	198 x 129 mm
Pages:	252 pages
Reader Age:	8 - 12 years
Publication Date:	5th March 2026
RRP:	£8.99
Bic Code:	YQCR

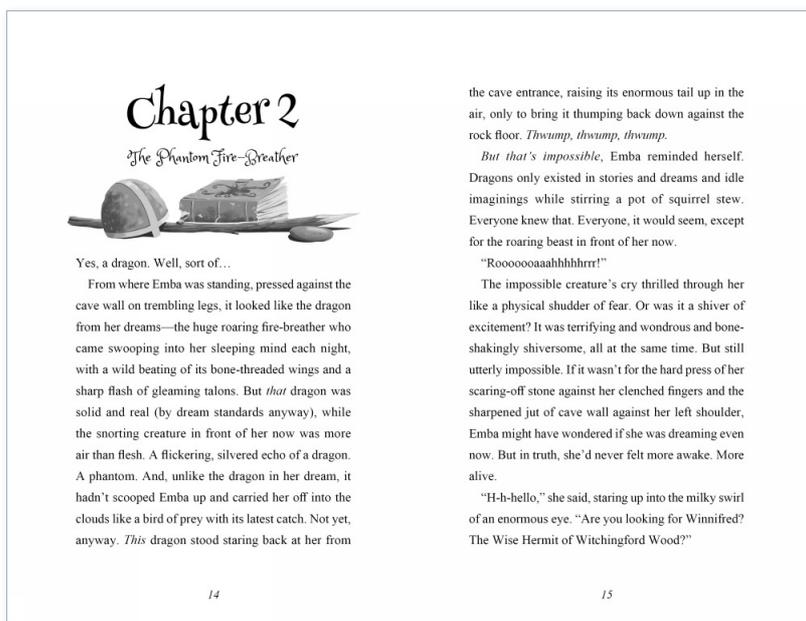

ISBN: 978-1-83511-083-6

All the best stories and adventures start with a knock at the door... Or the thwump of a dragon's tail at the entrance to her cave, in the case of Emba Oak. But then nothing about Emba's story is normal; from the scales on her arms and legs, to the shocking discovery that she hatched out of a dragon's egg. Even more shocking is the news that an evil sorcerer is after her dragon blood and will do anything to get his hands on it. Can Emba keep herself safe or will her loved ones pay the price?

Selling Points

Part of a whimsical yet electrifying fantasy series by prolific author, Jenny Moore. Packed with adventure and full of humour.

- Paperback edition with dyed ends.
- Being published in the UK & Ireland by Maverick Arts Publishing Ltd, but worldwide by Sourcebooks LLC.
- Marketing by MMS Sales Agency and PR by Dannie Price PR.
- Currently being developed for a TV series (pitch deck and pilot script available).

Author Biography

Jennifer Moore is a novelist and children's author from Devon. She was the first UK winner of the Commonwealth Short Story Competition and was shortlisted for the James Reckitt Hull Children's Book Award and the Greenhouse Funny Prize. Her numerous children's books (writing as Jenny Moore) are published by Maverick Arts Publishing, New Frontier Publishing and ZunTold. Her psychological thrillers The Woman Before and The Wilderness Retreat are published by HQ Digital, Harper Collins. Her short fiction and poetry have appeared in Atlantic, including numerous publications on both sides of the Atlantic, including The Guardian, Msexia, The First Line and Short Fiction.